

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

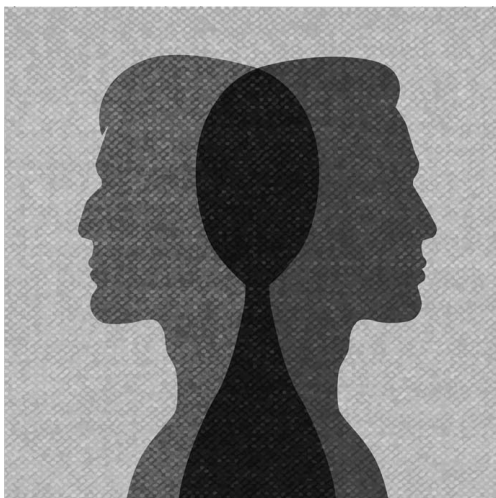

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

Can Steve convince James to get out and meet someone new?

Learning Outcome

Exchange information about unlikely events or fairly certain conditions that will be fulfilled in the present, past or future in spoken or written texts and in work and social contexts.

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about relationships and character traits.
- I can express uncertainty about past events.
- I can talk about two actions together.

Ask your partner:

- What social activities do you like to participate in?
- What do you think are the qualities of a great friend?

Let's Explore!

Steve tries to set James up

* If Steve "sets James up", then he tries to try to find James a date.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Recently James had noticed his friends becoming more and more worried about his love life. He admitted that he would have done more to go out and find someone, but he was quite content with the life he and Lacey had in his cozy little apartment.

"I watch you waste your time, and I'm worried," his friend Steve complained. "Last week I sent you a link to that online dating site, and you completely ignored it."

"I know I should have signed up," James replied. "But Lacey and I had plans to take a quiet stroll in the forest."

"And then I gave you that girl's number," Steve continued. "I overheard her saying that she thought you were cute, but you never even called."

"Well I might have called," James answered. "But Lacey and I decided to snuggle and watch Netflix instead. We really needed to unwind. We had a busy afternoon."

"You can't have been all that busy," Steve replied. "I saw you shopping at the farmers market with Lacey that afternoon!"

"Oh, right, it must have slipped my mind," James responded. "That was a charming little market."

"And what about the matchmaker who had an office right down the street?" Steve asked. "I gave you her address last week."

"I could have gone," James answered. "But Lacey had an appointment to get her nails done, and she must have been a little sore, because she also wanted me to rub her back for a while ..."

"Lacey, Lacey, Lacey! If you aren't careful, you're going to end up a grumpy old bachelor," Steve shouted in an exasperated tone. "You need to find someone new!"

"If I have Lacey, why do I need anyone else?" James asked.

"Because Lacey is your dog, not your girlfriend!" Steve replied, shaking his head.

Let's Practice!

Steve tries to help his friend James.

Instructions: Choose the option that best completes each sentence. Read the complete sentences aloud. Check your pronunciation with your instructor.

1. He admitted that he _____.
a. would have did
b. had have done
c. would have done
2. I know I should _____.
a. have sign up
b. have signed up
c. haven't signed up
3. Well, I might _____.
a. has called
b. have called
c. have calling
4. You can't _____ all that busy.
a. been have
b. have been
c. have be
5. It must _____ my mind.
a. have slipped
b. have slipping
c. haved slipped
6. I could _____.
a. was go
b. was gone
c. have gone

Let's Practice!

Steve gets annoyed with James.

Instructions: Proofread the sentences. Discuss with your classmates and instructor and circle the incorrect words. Provide a correction to each mistake on top of them. Read the correct text aloud. Check your pronunciation with your instructor.

James was quite content with the life he and Lacey had in his cazy little apartment. Steve was worried James would never meet anyone, so he sent him a link to an online dating site, but James' excuse was "I know I should have signed up, but Lacey and I had plans to take a quiet stole in the forest."

Steve then gave him a girl's number, but James just said "Well I might have called, but Lacey and I decided to snug and watch Netflix instead," and "We really needed to unwound. We had a busy afternoon."

Steve shouted in an exasperate tone "Lacey, Lacey, Lacey! If you're not careful, you're going to end up a grump old bachelors! You need to find someone new!"

Extension Activity

Complete a pet survey.

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Create a survey about pets of at least ten questions.
- Administer your survey to your classmates. Record their answers.
- Make a tally of the results.
- Convert your results into a paragraph which summarizes your findings.

Self-Assessment

Yes

No

I create questions about pets.

☐
☐

I ask my classmates questions.

☐
☐

I tally the results of my survey.

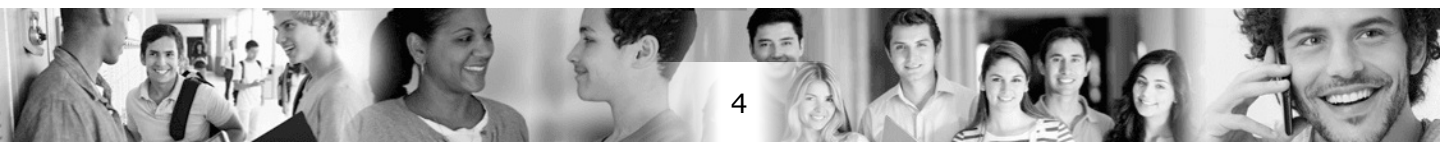

☐
☐

I write a paragraph based on the results.

☐
☐

Target Words

- love life (noun): the area of a person's life concerning their romantic relationships
e.g. Recently James had noticed his friends becoming more and more worried about his love life.
- to snuggle (verb): to move close to someone for affection, warmth, or comfort e.g. But Lacey and I decided to snuggle and watch Netflix instead.
- to stroll (verb): to take a short leisurely walk
e.g. Lacey and I had plans to take a quiet stroll in the forest.
- charming (adjective): pleasant
e.g. That was a charming little market.
- to rub (verb): to touch and move something over a surface, usually a hand e.g. She also wanted me to rub her back for a while .
- bachelor (noun): a man who is not married
e.g. You're going to end up a grumpy old bachelor.
- exasperated (adjective): annoyed
e.g. Steve shouted in an exasperated tone.

Learning Points

Perfect Modals: Degrees of Certainty/Uncertainty

You use Perfect modals to express different degrees of certainty or uncertainty.

There are many different kinds of Perfect modals to express certainty or uncertainty. Refer to the chart for an outline of the different modals used and their meanings.

Perfect Modal	Meaning/Use	Example
must have done	From evidence, you are quite certain something happened.	Hank felt terrible yesterday and went home. He must have got the flu - it's going around. can't have done	From evidence, you are quite certain something did not happen.	He can't have taken the car. I have the keys. may / might / could have done	You feel it's possible that something happened, however, you are not certain.	I didn't see Rick at work. He may/might/could have been sick. could have done	You were able to do something but you did not do it.	I could have taken the earlier train home but I did a little shopping instead. should have / ought to have done	a) It was the correct thing to do but you didn't do it. b) You expected something to happen but it didn't.	You should have been honest with her. They ought to have arrived by now. would have done	You wanted to do something but didn't end up doing it.	I would have gone to the concert but I didn't have enough for the tickets.

Examples:

- He admitted that he would have done more to go out and find someone, but he was quite content with the life he and Lacey had.
- I know I should have signed up, but Lacey and I had plans to take a quiet stroll in the forest.
- Well I might have called, actually, but I decided to spend a relaxing evening watching Netflix with Lacey instead.

Learning Points

- You can't have been all that busy.
- Oh, right, it must have slipped my mind.

Clauses Using -ing with Verbs of Perception

You can use these verbs to talk about perception: feel, hear, notice, observe, see, watch, and overhear.

You can use these verbs with either an object + -ing or object + bare infinitive. Depending on the structure you choose, the meanings will be slightly different.

For example:

I saw them playing soccer from my window. (-ing indicates that the action was in progress)

I saw him kick the ball. (bare infinitive indicates that the action is completed)

I was able to watch them building the new stadium from my window. (-ing suggests that I watched, but not from the start to the finish)

I watched him climb through the window and then I called security. (bare infinitive implies I watched the whole action from start to finish)

Examples:

- Recently James had noticed his friends becoming more and more worried about his love life.
- I watch you waste your time, and I'm worried.
- I overheard her saying that she thought you were cute.
- I saw you shopping at the farmers market with Lacey that afternoon!

