

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

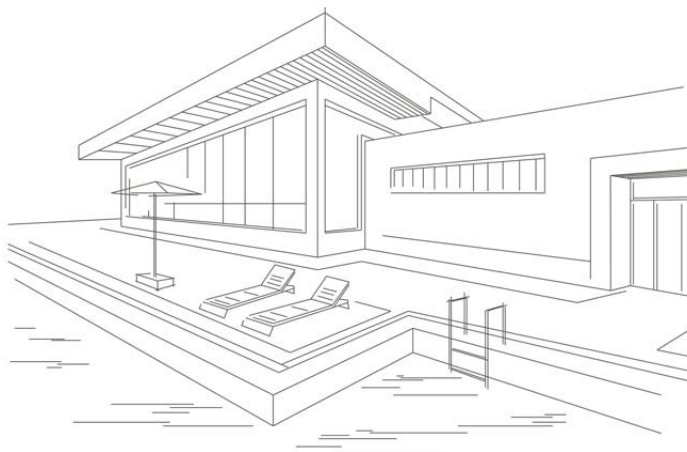

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

Let's take a tour of this lovely home!

Learning Outcome

Exchange information about unlikely events or fairly certain conditions that will be fulfilled in the present, past or future in spoken or written texts and in work and social contexts.

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about technology, love and marriage.
- I can talk about unfulfilled obligations or regret.
- I can describe mental states and emotions.

Ask your partner:

- What's the nicest hotel you have ever visited?
- Do you prefer camping or staying in a hotel? Why?

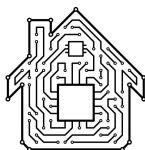

Let's Explore!

Ted and Ramona enjoy some 5-star service.

* If something has a "5-star" rating, it is of high quality.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

With some trepidation, Ted and Ramona walked up to the door of the magnificent marble house. Ted thought that the vacation home would be a nice anniversary surprise for his wife. He knew that he really shouldn't have paid for such a luxurious rental, but he also realized that spontaneous romantic gestures were important in a relationship.

"What do we do to get in?" Ramona wondered out loud.

"I think we put our finger on this little scanner over here. It's supposed to read our fingerprints," Ted said.

"I should have known," said Ramona. "This whole place is wired with cutting-edge technology."

Ramona scanned her finger, and the door slid open. She gasped. She had never been in such a high-tech mansion in her life.

"How do you turn the lights on, Ted?" she asked, turning to her husband.

"Just ask the butler," Ted said with a grin.

"What?" Ramona giggled.

"Say, 'Butler, turn lights on!'" With that, all the lights in the house came on.

Suddenly, Ramona thought that she heard soft music playing. She couldn't believe it. It was their song! The one that had been playing on the radio when they'd first kissed!

"Oh, Ted," Ramona smiled, "you're such a sweetheart. How did you get it to do that?"

"Well," Ted replied sheepishly, "I asked them to sync all of our favorite songs before we came."

"That's so sweet," Ramona said. "You should have programmed in our favorite drinks as well," she added facetiously.

Ted understood that she was joking, but he just winked. "Try it, why don't you?" he said, grinning.

"Butler, bring us two vodka martinis," Ramona requested.

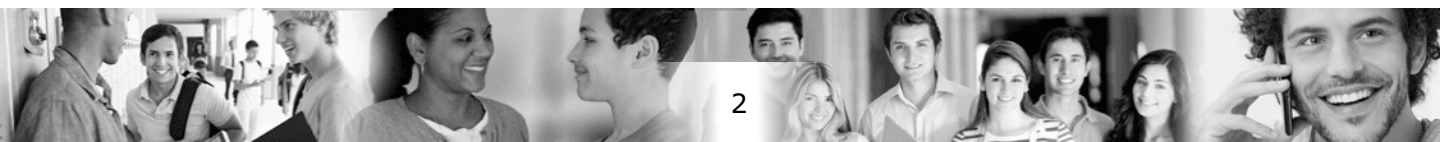

Almost immediately, a robotic butler wheeled in from the kitchen, with their drinks on a silver platter.

"Here's to us," said Ted, grabbing a glass. "What do you think?"

"I'm considering moving in permanently," replied Ramona, smiling.

"I guess I should have told you," said Ted. "We only have the rental for one evening."

"In that case, we'd better get our money's worth," replied Ramona. "Butler, bring me a shrimp cocktail and a tray of caviar!"

Let's Practice!

Ramona is pleasantly surprised!

Instructions: Proofread the sentences below. Circle the incorrect words. Provide a correction for each mistake. Read the sentences aloud. Check your pronunciation with your instructor.

1. Ted think that the vacation would be a nice anniversary surprise for his wife.
2. He also realizing that spontaneous romantic gestures were important in a relationship.
3. Ted understand that she was joking, but he just winked.
4. "I'm consider moving in permanently," replied Ramona, smiling.
5. Ramona finding that the house was better than imagined.

Let's Practice!

Ted and Ramona explore the mansion.

Instructions: Complete the text below by choosing from the options that you are given.

With some trepidation / such a sweetheart / such a high-tech mansion / read our fingerprints / spontaneous romantic gestures / is wired with cutting-edge technology / on this little scanner

_____, Ted and Ramona walked up to the door of the magnificent marble house. Ted knew that _____ were important in a relationship. "What do we do to get in?" Ramona wondered out loud. "I think we put our finger _____ over here. It's supposed to _____," Ted said. This whole place _____. "She had never been in _____ in her life. Music came on. "Oh, Ted," Ramona smiled, "you're _____. How did you get it to play our song?"

Extension Activity

Pretend you are a time traveler and change the past.

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Pretend you are a time traveler. Make a list of ten historical mistakes that you would like to correct.
- Convert your list into ten sentences using "shouldn't have" (i.e. The Titanic shouldn't have traveled so fast.)
- Add another sentence to each scenario stating what "should have" happened. (e.g. It should have reached America safely).

Self-Assessment

Yes No

I list ten historical mistakes.

☐ ☐

I make sentences speculating about the past using "shouldn't have."

☐ ☐

I make sentences speculating about the past using "should have."

☐ ☐

Target Words

- trepidation (noun): a feeling of fear or agitation
e.g. With some trepidation, Ted and Ramona walked up to the door.
- romantic gesture (noun): action done to express love e.g. He also realized that spontaneous romantic gestures were important in a relationship.
- cutting-edge (adjective): at the latest or most advanced stage in the development of something e.g. This whole place is wired with cutting-edge technology.
- high-tech (adjective): having advanced technological development
e.g. She had never been in such a high-tech mansion in her life.
- sweetheart (noun): a particularly lovable or pleasing person e.g. You're such a sweetheart.
- to sync (verb): to download digitally e.g. I asked them to sync all of our favorite songs into the home system before we came.
- to grin (verb): to smile broadly
e.g. "Try it, why don't you?" he said, grinning.

Learning Points

Perfect Modals: Should/Shouldn't Have

You can use perfect modals to talk about unfulfilled obligations or things that you regret doing or not doing.

You use the structure should have + past participle or shouldn't have + past participle to:

- talk about unfulfilled obligations in the past.

For example:

You should have returned the car on time. Now you have to pay an extra charge.

- talk about regrets.

For example:

I should have tried harder at work. Now I have to look for another job. I shouldn't have said those things to my boss - he doesn't like me now!

Examples:

- He knew that he really shouldn't have paid for such a luxurious rental.
- "I should have known," said Ramona. "This whole place is wired with cutting-edge technology."
- "I guess I should have told you," said Ted. "We only have the rental for one evening."
- You should have programmed in our favorite drinks as well.

Learning Points

Mental State Verbs

You use some verbs that describe mental states with the Present Continuous to emphasize that you have recently started to think about something or that you are not sure about something.

Verbs that describe mental states are:

find realize regret think understand

Compare these two examples:

I regret that the company is to be folded. (I regret the decision and I'm sorry about it)
I'm regretting my decision to hire him.* (I'm increasingly aware that this was the wrong decision)

You use the verb consider in the Present Continuous to mean think carefully about.

For example:

I'm considering taking a vacation at the end of the year.*

Examples:

- Ted thought that the vacation home would be a nice anniversary surprise for his wife.
- He also realized that spontaneous romantic gestures were important in a relationship.
- Suddenly, Ramona thought that she heard soft music playing.
- Ted understood that she was joking, but he just winked.
- I'm considering moving in permanently.

